

'Photography... remembers the little things long after you have forgotten everything'

Aaron Siskind (1903-1991), American abstract expressionist photographer, Member of the New York Photo League

www.hyperiondesign.com

ARCHIVAL PHOTOGRAPHY

Call now to discuss your project requirements

Kylie Hilton

0418 218 151

kylie@hyperiondesign.com

For more information and examples of our work

www.hyperiondesign.com

Hyperion Design offers the services and expertise of an in-house qualified historian and professional photographer to:

- Architects
- Corporate sector
- Non government instrumentalities
- Government sector, and
- Private sector

'Photographers deal with things that are continually vanishing'

Henri Cartier-Bresson (1908 - 2004), French photographer, father of modern photo journalism

Services include:

- a thorough knowledge of the New South Wales Heritage Branch Guidelines
- professional cost-effective archival photographic recording service
- photographic documentation of historic sites, development projects and environmental sites
- project portfolios and presentations
- presentation of photographic material in various formats - DVDs, slide shows, online and offline data bases, project folders and data bases
- consultation on the safest methods of restoration, preservation and storage of valuable visual archival materials
- digitisation of existing photographic records
- documentation of historical events
- online sale of photographs listed with Hyperion Design
- photographic and archives searches
- preservation of family history photographic archives and other materials

Hyperion Design also offers a full range of website infrastructure design and development, email and hosting solutions, graphic design services for projects large or small, marketing consultancy and of course photography tailored for your specific requirements - from portraits to editorial, advertising, product and exhibition.